New Employees' First Week at Kardan University

Mohammad Ilyas Surosh
Librarian

"My first-week experience at Kardan University was fabulous. I was welcomed by all of our colleagues and all faculty members in a fascinating way. My orientation was a complete informational package about the university and my job description. Moreover, my supervisor is supportive in all areas of our work, and I love to do my job in the library as a librarian."

Zabeehullah Khan
Mobile Application Developer

"It has been a delightful first week working for Kardan University, and I am touched by the friendliness of my colleagues and my manager at the MIS unit. I am looking forward to taking advantage of this positive and friendly environment for excellent work productivity and job satisfaction."

Zabihullah Quraishi

Lecturer, Department of Civil Engineering

"On the first day, the university campus and different university sections have been introduced to me by the HR Manager. After joining the Department of Civil Engineering Department, I got some useful guide of MIS system for my internet account and got tach with the online system of Kardan University. Also, I got some 'teaching skill' training in my first week at Kardan University."

Muzamil Haqmal

Lecturer, Department of Business Administration

"My first week's experience at Kardan University was remarkable. I was warmly welcomed and given the introduction about the departments, university, and even about the Learning Management System. My interaction with colleagues and managers made me realize that Kardan is a prestigious institution with professional employees."

A Training for Employees: Managing Oneself

Human Resources Department organized a training on Managing Oneself delivered by Mr. Shams Ul Hayat.

Mr. Shams Ul Hayat, Assistant Professor for the Department of Business Administration, has actively delivered the training manual and gave everyone the drive to think about their strengths, values, goals and continue what they have started and become better on their job.

Everyone left with a high spirit knowing that they can do things better by understanding and managing their own first. This kind of activity will be the start of more for Kardan University employees in making great effort to achieve their goals and be the best.

Reflections

An Interview with Kardan University's MIS Coordinator

1. Could you please tell us about your education?

I have done a master's in computer science from Edwards College Peshawar affiliated with the University of Peshawar.

2. How long is it that you are working at Kardan University?

I am working at Kardan University since 2007, which is almost 14 years

3. How did you choose this field?

My brother in law, Mir Ibad Ali, is an expert in computer science, and he is also my role model, so he convinced me to work in this field.

4. What is your greatest memory at Kardan University?

I am working at Kardan for the last 14 years, so there are many memories that I will keep with me throughout my life, especially when Kardan University recognized my efforts in 2008 and awarded me as the best employee.

5. Could you please tell us about your achievements?

My achievements at Kardan University is the development of a complete MIS system, including

1. Admission, Examination, Library, and Finance
2. Learning Management System
3. Mobile Applications

6. Could you please tell us about your private life?

I have a family of five-member including my wife, two sons, and one daughter. Although I feel very relaxed while working at Kardan University, the only problem I'm facing is that I am missing my family.

When I am receiving the cards with lots of love from my kids on a daily basis, it makes me feel that I'm compromising my social and family life.

7. Tell us one sentence about Kardan University.

As we know that the word Kardan means professionalism, so I want to say that the biggest strength of Kardan is its professional management and its trickle-down effect on all faculty and staff of the university.
